Micro Utopias

The City will be our studio.

In the urban context, we investigate and seek out architectural, social, structural situations that we perceive as unbalanced in some way: Situations defined by the lack of something, by too much order, situations characterised by human coldness, by overdone effectiveness etc.

In counterd reactions specific to each location, we try to create a temporary balance by means of art.

What do we dream of? How do we want to live in the future – individually and as a society?

How can art contribute to a change, even in sketchy steps to begin with?

An opening-up of art into everyday life, an opening-up of everyday life to art.

2016 11|02 – 11|08

A selection of the projects had been shown at Treasure Hill Artist Village Gallery, Taipei, after the workshop.

2016 11|30 – 12|13

The project was kindly hosted and supported by Taipei National University of The Arts, particularly Profs. Dai Jia-Ming and Yuan Goang-Ming.

It was funded by the Goethe-Institute, Taipei, and UTOPIA TOOLBOX.
